Re: Slam Dunk to A Healthier Lifestyle Initiative
“Health and Wellness Event Planning Invitation”

Dear Community Partners,

Per popular request, Florida Health- Palm Beach County HIV Prevention Unit is working to host the Slam Dunk to a Healthier Lifestyle Initiative 2½ days fun-filled educational forum; a Health and Wellness community outreach program targeting Palm Beach County/State of Florida youth 13years – 21years (middle/high school and college level) and their family members. The forum will include an array of Health and Social Economic activities/motivational speakers; including entertainment such as: 3 on 3 basketball tournament and battle of the Steppers performance. We are planning this event for March 27, 2020 - March 29, 2020, Gaines Park and Recreation Center, bouncing off the first day activities around 12:30pm.

Slam Dunk is a community outreach program designed as a partnership between public and nonprofit agencies and other community residents, working as a collaborative team, to assist in introducing essential life skill education and social-economic tools to our community youth which will assist them in making better choices that will lead to positive health and economic outcomes. We are looking to have a mass audience attending the forum and we need your support to work toward ensuring that the event will be a fun filled successful day for all who attend. Also, we have scheduled a planning/Initiative introduction meeting for Monday, August 19, 2019, 800 Clematis Street (first floor auditorium), between 2:00pm – 4:30pm. We are extending an invitation to you/your agency to attend.

We also ask that you please consider attending this meeting and RSVP by close of business day, August 15, 2019. If you have any questions or concerns, you may contact me at 561-449-5273 or Dominique.Nealy@flhealth.gov or Linda Warren at linda.warren@flhealth.gov.

We thank you in advance for your attention concerning this request.

Respectfully,
