

Hello, all.

We've had some calls about the Golden Dragons in regard to if they're still coming or not. With them being Chinese acrobats, people are concerned about the Coronavirus.

The following statement is from Asian Artists (their company), which is based in Texas:

"Every acrobat in this current group is from the city Puyan which is in the Henan provinces. WuHan is in another province which is much further south. The entire group arrived in DFW on December 6th, 2019. For the past seven weeks no acrobats have reported sickness of any kind. The arrival period is before the coronavirus outbreak in WuHan. Rest assured our people [audiences] do not have to worry about our acrobats' health."

If there is any way you can help to get the word out that there should be no concerns about the acrobats, we would greatly appreciate it.

Thank you!
