YSD FILLS ITS HEART WITH SANCTUARY

In February 2024, the Sanctuary Cross Divisional Action Team led the Youth Services Department in participating in a month-long activity called 'Fill Your Heart with Sanctuary.' The sanctuary team put up hearts in YSD's various office spaces so staff could write and place notes for co-workers in the heart that highlighted how the individual has demonstrated one of the seven commitments of the Sanctuary Model of Trauma-Informed Care.

The commitments of the Sanctuary model are democracy, open communication, growth and change, nonviolence, emotional intelligence, social learning, and social responsibility. The various notes were put in each designated office space's heart display on pink, white, and red construction paper. Together, the notes helped fill the teams' hearts with sanctuary.

BIRTH TO 22 HOSTS ANNUAL TASK FORCE MEETING

The Seventh Annual Birth to 22: United for Brighter Futures Task Force meeting was held at the Clayton E. Hutcheson Agricultural Center on January 16, 2024. After being held virtually for several years, this in-person event hosted over 100 participants, including parents, family members, school representatives, students, community members, and agency representatives. The meeting was split into two sessions: a review of the previous year and an interactive discussion about the Youth Master Plan 2.0 draft.

As Birth to 22 enters its 10th year as a collective impact, Tammy K. Fields, Palm Beach County Assistant County Administrator, and Lisa Williams-Taylor, CEO of the Children's Services Council (CSC) of Palm Beach County, highlighted the 2023 accomplishments as well as the major milestones achieved over the last 10 years. The task force meeting was also a transitional moment as Tammy accepted a promotional opportunity within the county. She was thanked for her contributions and passion towards Birth to 22 and introduced the new Birth to 22 Steering Committee Co-Chair, Elisa Cramer, who is Interim Director of the Youth Services Department (YSD).

The task force meeting showcased two youth-led workgroups, Future Leaders: United for Change and the Girls Voice Task Force, which have hosted community service projects, engaged youth in skill-building and leadership initiatives, and planned events throughout 2024.

The Youth Master Plan (YMP) serves as the blueprint for setting priorities and taking action to improve the lives of children and youth in Palm Beach County. Before the Task Force meeting, the registered participants were provided a draft of the "YMP 2.0," an update of the plan based on community input and data. During the second session of the Task Force meeting, Jeannette Gordon, an independent consultant, facilitated discussions to gather feedback on the draft, including the strengths, gaps, and overall comprehensiveness of the proposed plan.

The new YMP focuses on youth transitioning to adulthood with strategic priority areas of mental health, economic access, and education while highlighting safety. Once finalized, this plan will guide the next three years of services and funding opportunities for the Birth to 22 Alliance.

Learn more about the Birth to 22 Alliance at: <http://pbcbirthto22.com/>.

YSD HOSTS COMMUNITY BASED AGENCIES 2024 KICKOFF AND QUARTER 2 MEETING

The Youth Services Department hosted its Community Based Agencies (CBAs) FY2024 Kickoff meeting on October 17, 2023, at 9:00 a.m. at the Clayton E. Hutcheson Agricultural Services Center.

After engaging in a Sanctuary Community Meeting, JaVona Wilson, Program Coordinator of YSD's Outreach and Community Programming Division (OCP) got the group up and moving with a bingo icebreaker. The agency staff learned more about each other and other agencies while earning prizes. Valerie Messineo, Senior Program Specialist of OCP, presented agency programmatic requirements and dates to remember, and polled the group for feedback to improve the annual report/logic model processes.

Ty Hall, Financial Analyst II, of the Finance, Contracting, and Administrative Services Division, reviewed the Services and Activities Management Information System (SAMIS), including frequently asked questions and common invoice errors.

Wen Fils-Aime, Program Coordinator, and Tamia Williams, Senior Program Specialist of OCP, presented on the Summer Camp Scholarship Program. They encouraged the agencies to get involved by applying to be a summer camp, assisting their families with applications, and spreading the word about the program. Each CBA contract encourages agencies to get involved with the Birth to 22 United for Brighter Futures Alliance.

The group was provided an update about how they could get involved and the areas of support needed, and then JaVona told the group about the work of Future Leaders.

Youth Service's Outreach and Community Programming Division (OCP) hosted its FY2024 second quarterly Community Based Agencies (CBA) meeting on January 9, 2024, at 9:00 am at the Clayton E. Hutcheson Agricultural Services Center. This meeting introduced multiple free resources to the agency staff. Johnathan Brown, Director of PBC Housing and Economic Development Department, shared funding resources for the development of affordable housing.

JFS will go directly to an agency's location to provide this free training if requested. Samantha Corr of PBC Environmental Resources Management introduced the Trailblazers program for youth 11 years and older. It allows them to get outdoors, out of their comfort zone, and to try new things.

Valerie Messineo, Senior Program Specialist of OCP presented on agency programmatic requirements, dates to remember, and provided technical support focused on monthly reports. Wen Fils-Aime, Program Coordinator, and Tamia Williams, Senior Program Specialist of OCP, discussed the Summer Camp Scholarship Program and the process to submit an application, and upcoming workshops. To provide opportunities for CBAs to get involved with Birth to 22, JaVona Wilson of OCP, shared information about Future Leaders and the Girls Voice Task Force. The two workgroups are teaming up to create a hub that will meet bi-monthly at the Youth Services Department. There is a continuing need for agencies to partner with the program to ensure there are youth participants.

At the CBA kick-off meeting in October, agencies stated they wanted more support around trauma and how to support youth who share challenging personal information with staff. The Center for Child Counseling provided a free, 90-minute training after the quarterly meeting on PACE (Positive/Adverse Childhood Experiences) and incorporating activities to respond to students meaningfully and helpfully.

HIGHRIDGE FAMILY CENTER HONORS BLACK HISTORY MONTH

In February 2024, Highridge Family Center honored Black History Month at the youth residential therapeutic center by transforming the cafeteria into a "Black History Museum," which had the following under display:

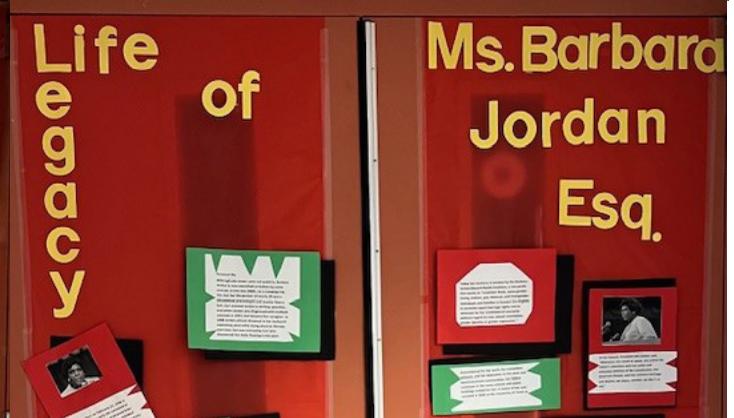

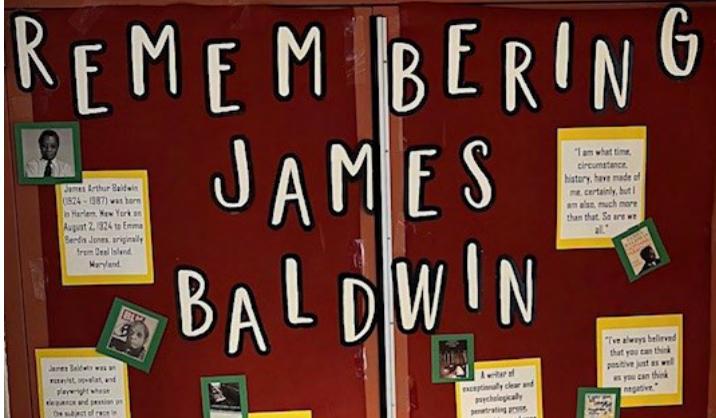

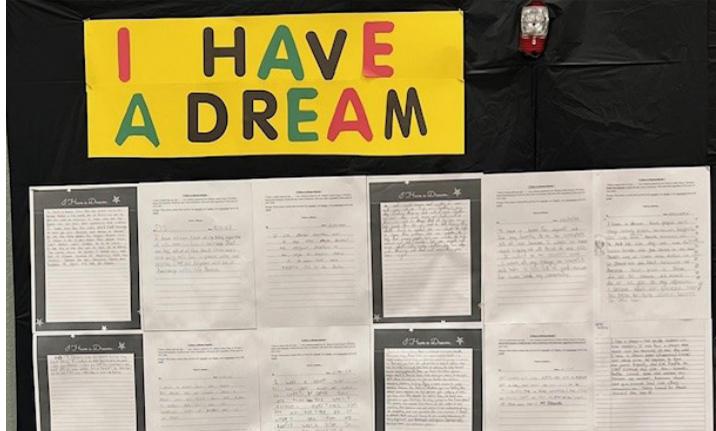

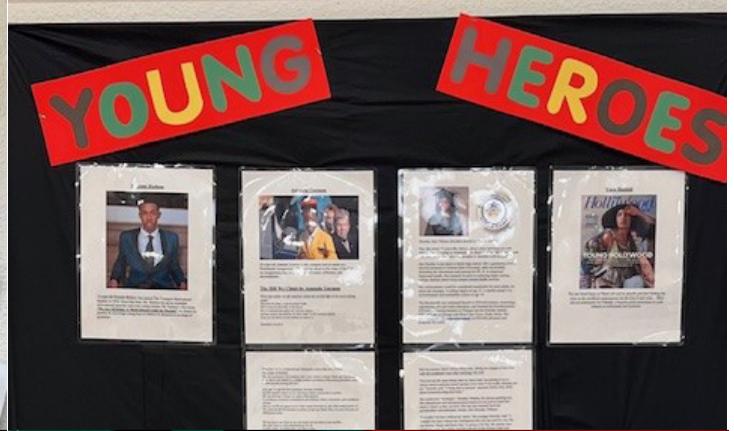

- Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) Wall, a current events wall, an "Inventors and their Inventions" Table, a Young Heroes Wall, a Resilience Wall, and a Justice & Equality Wall.
- As part of the celebration, youth clients were encouraged to write their own 'I Have a Dream' speeches, drawing inspiration from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s iconic speech. These speeches were then displayed, allowing everyone to share and learn from each other's dreams and aspirations. Each week, the youth and team at Highridge focused on a specific area through Psychoeducation Group sessions. Clients also watched movies that coincided with the theme or subject.
- The Memorial also depicted lives that were lost during efforts to achieve and maintain freedom for all, dating back to the "Freedom Riders" era and as recent as the Black Lives Matter movement.
- Throughout the month, their "Black History Highlights" featured motivational quotes, notable figures, and inventors/inventions of past and present-day entrepreneurs.
- 'Spirit' week was a special part of the Black History Month celebration. It was a week filled with activities designed to illustrate the lives of Black people from the days of slavery to the present. Each day had a different theme, and everyone was encouraged to dress up and participate in various activities, such as Cultural Potluck/Flag Day, to immerse themselves in American history and culture.

Also included in the celebration of Black History Month was: a "Dorm Door" decorating contest, highlighting heroes from past and present and their contribution to safety; inventors/notable figures tables emphasizing historical events and inventions/inventor; a "Commitments in Action Wall," which highlighted black men and women depicting their contributions to society, and a "Young Heroes Easel Display" showcasing teenagers who have positively impacted society.

Well done to the Highridge Family Center on a wonderful month-long celebration honoring Black History Month!

PALM BEACH COUNTY BEHAVIORAL HEALTH COALITION YOUTH SUMMIT

On Saturday, October 14, 2023, the Youth Services Department participated in the Palm Beach County Behavioral Health Youth Summit called 'Ride The WAVE (Wellness, Awareness, Visualization, Empathy).' Youth learned about leadership, drug prevention, and coping skills, and participated in art expression. Tammy K. Fields, Assistant County Administrator, and Lourdes Perez, Administrative Assistant I, shared about resources the Youth Services Department offers to youth and families.

Approximately 90 students from across the county representing over 40 schools participated in networking activities, breakout sessions and a service project. Each student who attended the summit at the Children's Services Council of Palm Beach County in Boynton Beach received a swag bag with trinkets, resources, a water bottle, and earned 6 hours of community service.

The Youth Services Department provided therapists for two breakout sessions at the event and Birth to 22's Future Leaders United for Change provided water bottles, a Zumba instructor, and Feverish Frozen Treats (Italian Ice).

Coping Skills 101

Therapists Marlene Aboytes, MSW, and Angela Heras, LCSW, led the youth in a group session focused on exploring coping skills and creating a Coping/Self Care Plan. The opening activity, Positive Self Talk, prompted each youth to write a positive affirmation on a piece of paper, which was later shared among the group. The youth were provided insight into the power of positive self-talk and encouraged to engage in this technique daily. Afterward, the clinicians led the group in an open discussion to explore the importance of coping skills, discuss the difference between healthy and unhealthy coping skills, and provide psychoeducation on two additional techniques (breathing and grounding techniques).

The latter portion of this group activity focused on the youth identifying their own personal coping skills and creating a safe care plan. Each youth was provided with a coping card to document their coping skills and a healthy coping skills pamphlet of examples. The youth took turns sharing one of their coping skills with the group.

Empathy Circle

Therapists Marlene Aboytes, MSW, and Angela Heras, LCSW, led the youth in an empathy circle activity, which highlighted various topics such as bullying, drugs, and discrimination. Confidentiality and the exceptions were reviewed during the icebreaker activity. The youth all sat in a circle and were prompted to raise their hand if the sentence read applied to them. Questions asked included the following: Have you ever been bullied; Have you ever been discriminated against; Have you ever felt pressured to use drugs; Do you feel uncertain about the future?

Clinicians used reflections to facilitate conversations, and youth were encouraged to share personal experiences. A safe environment was provided for youth to ask additional questions. Toward the end of the group, the clinicians referenced various hands raised for each question to highlight the importance of bringing these topics into the conversation and to remind the youth that they are not alone. The clinicians discussed the therapy services available through Youth Services.

ERM TOUR OF LOXAHATCHEE SLOUGH

On December 1, 2023, Tevin Ali, Outreach and Public Information Coordinator, joined Deborah Drum, Director of the Environmental Resources Management (ERM) department, Michael A. Barnett, Palm Beach County Commissioner, District 3, and ERM staff for a tour of Loxahatchee Slough. Approximately 1/12 of the nearly 13,000 square acres preserve north of PGA near Beeline. This is Palm Beach County’s largest natural preserve operated by ERM. ERM staff took the team on a swamp buggy through wetlands, dry areas, and locations that will be prepared for controlled burns to prevent wildfires. This area remains mostly untouched, as it existed nearly 5,000 years ago.

Fun fact: In 2017, the Department of Environmental Resources Management, along with Youth Services Department, began a summer internship program called the “Green Futures Internship Program” for youth ages 17 to 22. The goal of the program is to inspire and mentor young adults by giving them first-hand experiences doing “green” jobs that preserve and protect Palm Beach County’s land and water resources. # BIRTH TO 22: FUTURE LEADERS AND GIRLS COORDINATING COUNCIL SEASON TO GIVE Birth to 22: Future Leaders and Girls Coordinating Council (GCC) kicked off the holiday season by collecting over 100 donated gifts in partnership with Digital Vibez and their annual Jingle Jamz, where Digital Vibez distributes gifts to youth in underserved communities within Palm Beach County. In addition, the team collected over $150 in gift cards to distribute to underprivileged teens in Palm Beach County; these gift cards are to teen-friendly stores such as Five Below, Target, Amazon, and more. Teens are sometimes overlooked when it comes to toy drives, so this made way for GCC and Future Leaders to give back to all youth in Palm Beach County.

On December 8, 2023, Future Leaders gathered at Youth Services to wrap the gifts donated while enjoying a hot cocoa bar and holiday tunes provided by Digital Vibez. The youth who participated received community service work hours to report to their schools. Future Leaders is a youth council in Palm Beach County that provides a platform for the voice of the youth of Palm Beach County, creating leaders through self-motivation, determination, and education.

PBC COMMUNITY SERVICES HOMELESS SUMMIT

On Thursday, November 9, 2023, the Leading the Way Home: Summit on Homelessness was held at the United Methodist Church in West Palm Beach. This summit discussed the cost of living in Palm Beach County, the progress made in the last 10 years, and the reasons for the re-examination of the "Leading the Way Home" plan with a goal to end homelessness in our county. There was also an opportunity to divide into groups and discuss a variety of factors that affect homelessness, such as systems and services, housing, healthcare, and more.

Keynote Speaker Joey Nieves, Director of Outreach for The Lord's Place and Certified Recovery Specialist, discussed his experience as a homeless individual in Cleveland, Ohio, overcoming other challenges, and how he found his calling in his daily work.

Commissioners Gregg Weiss and Mack Bernard, and County Administrator Verdenia Baker provided remarks.

Dr. James Green, Director of Palm Beach County Community Services; Taruna Malhotra, Deputy Director of Palm Beach County Community Services; and Wendy Tippett, Director of Human Services and Community Action at Palm Beach County Community Services, provided important information on the state of homelessness in Palm Beach County.

Tammy Fields, Assistant County Administrator, and Elisa Cramer, Interim Director of Youth Services, participated with a focus on the needs of unsheltered children and families and older teens transitioning to adulthood.

During the evening, Assistant County Administrator Tammy Fields and Youth Services Department Interim Director Elisa Cramer helped organize Vita Nova's clothing closet, which provides donated attire at no cost to teens and young adults served by Vita Nova. They also engaged in conversations with young adults who shared their personal experiences of housing insecurity and suggestions for capturing accurate counts of youth and young adults who are unsheltered.

The count occurred on Thursday, January 25, 2024, from 12 pm-12 am and Friday, January 26, 2024, from 4 am-12 pm.

READ FOR THE RECORD

On October 24, 2023, Tammy K. Fields, Assistant County Administrator, participated in the Annual 'Read for the Record' literary campaign. Ms. Fields read Jenny Torres Sanchez' wonderful story titled "With Lots of Love."

Q What is your agency's focus for 2024?

A Our focus this year is to increase the awareness of overall wellness. If we can get our communities moving, active, and taking charge of their lives in a healthier way, it will help improve mental, emotional, and physical well-being. Our goal is to start by increasing our efforts to really push our Let's Move Palm Beach County Commit to Change Challenge in partnership with the Palm Health Foundation. Last year, Palm Beach County residents collectively reached an all-time high of 103,000,000 minutes of physical activity! Our Let's Move PBC Challenge begins March 1 and ends March 31; we encourage everyone to register their teams, get active, and count those minutes on LetsMovePBC.org.

Q How do the funds received from Palm Beach County enhance the services your agency provides?

A Through the funding we receive from Palm Beach County, we are able to provide more mobile programs to youth in more areas and communities in need.

We are also able to partner with more agencies to provide more community outreaches and free public events for youth and families to enjoy.

Thanks to your funding, we have been able to break the glass ceilings, expand our larger projects, and have been able to make it to our 10th year as a non-profit impacting lives in Palm Beach County.

CBA Q&A CONTINUED

Q What is your website information?

A www.digitalvibez.org

Q Do you have a youth success story you would like to share?

A Over the summer, we had the pleasure of partnering with the Urban League of Palm Beach County to provide youth in their program with a summer internship. Through this collaboration, we were able to mentor and guide several youths during the work week at our Digital Vibez Studio located in Northwood.

During this internship, we met with a teen who had come a long way to where he was, and he had two options: Attend the summer internship in the hope of change and a better life or find himself in the streets without knowing what would happen to him next.

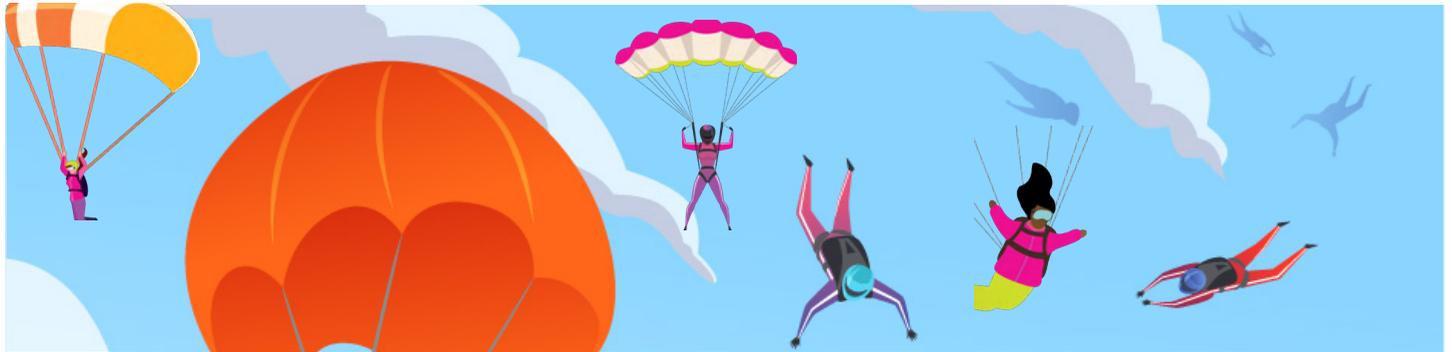

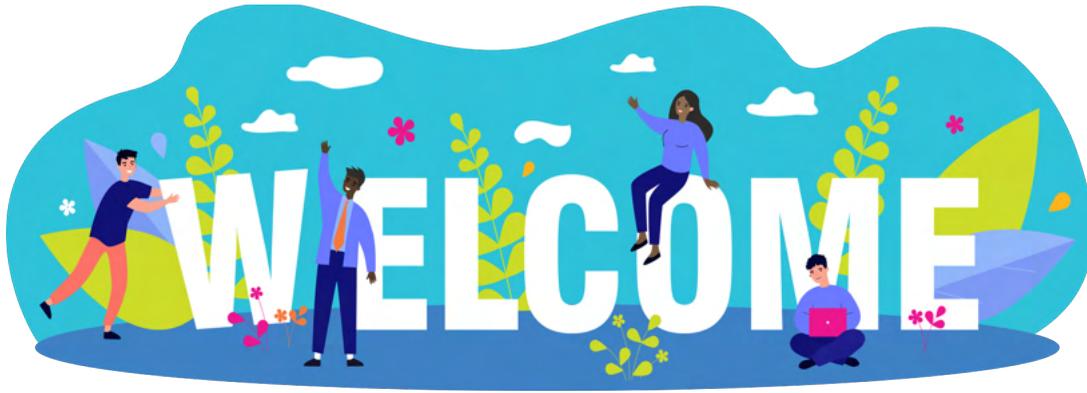

Through the mentorship, he gained time management, project management, leadership skills and enhanced his skills in team building, problem-solving, and communication skills.

He also regained his confidence, self-respect, and the meaning of family.

He looks forward to one day working for Digital Vibez because of the impact we've had on his life and the way we provide methods for other youth also to gain support in becoming a better person and seeing that in life, there is always an option to choose another path just like him. He has since returned to school and we anticipate him to graduate soon!
