Limited In Person Event

On behalf of the Florida Department of Health we are excited to announce that registration is still open for the Human Trafficking Symposium. The symposium is designed to bring awareness and education on what Human Trafficking is all about and how to identify human trafficking. The event will have an impressive subject matter panel of experts who will inform, discuss, educate, and engage!

With Florida ranking third highest human trafficking destination in the country, this is a good opportunity for individuals, organizations, agencies, and coalitions to work together to raise awareness, provide education, and develop effective strategies to address this problem.

The event is open to the public, and free Continuing Education Units (CEUs) will be offered to those attending in person/on site. For more information on the Florida Health Department, Human Trafficking Symposium click here.

Thank you!

We greatly appreciate you sharing this information with your colleagues and network. Attendees can register for this free event in person or join via live webcast. Thank you for all you do and helping the public to understand and address HUMAN trafficking as a public health issue."
