RE: Sista Organizing to Survive Conference
” Toward Zero Together”
**Health & Educational Forum**

Dear Community Partners:

Triple -H- Community Center, The Department of Health-Palm Beach County, Community AIDS Network (CAN), Planned Parenthood, FoundCare and Palm Beach County-Community Services, Ryan White Program are working together to host a health and educational awareness/empowerment blow-out “Sista Organizing to Survive (SOS) mini conference. With a focus on prevention; our primary goal is to promote a healthy community and environment by assuring essential health and educational services are accessed. Also, to provide an opportunity for the community to come together to learn and explore resources available for them in Palm Beach County. The SOS Conference will educate, empower and encourage minority women to take charge and control of their sexual health and well-being.

The event is scheduled for Friday, March 29, 2019 at Mount Botanical Garden 531 N Military Trail, West Palm Beach Florid between the hours of 10:00am and 3:00pm. The theme is “Toward Zero Together”. It will be a free event in addition to a fun way to bring health and educational awareness to the attention of our community residents. Note: The event will include a combination of activities, speakers, refreshments, incentives, entertainment, testing, wellness checks and a multitude of informational resources. For additional information, please feel free to contact me at 561-766-1769 or 561-779-6734.

We would like to invite you to participate and be present to share information regarding your agency programs and services. Also, I would like to sincerely thank your agency in advance for any in-kind or monetary sponsorship that they may be able to provide in assisting us with ensuring this is a successful event for all who attends.

In addition, we appreciate you for sharing and donating your time, monetary sponsorship, in-kind donation, and resources to work toward ensuring that the event will be a fun filled day for our community residence. For your convenience and possible participation, the registration and donation forms are attached.

Sincerely,

Caroline Hill
