

Amid the star-studded extravaganza of Super Bowl 50, one quiet moment rose up through the fanfare: Anquan Boldin receiving the Walter Payton Man of the Year award for his charitable efforts and his dedication off the field. Read more here

Q81 Scholarships Still Open for Submissions

Seniors... Don't hesitate, Apply Today!

High School Graduates, Class of 2016

Four, $10,000 scholarships will be awarded this spring to high school seniors entering college. Applicants of Palm Beach County and San Francisco Bay Area can apply. Selections are based on academic excellence, community service, and a demonstration of need.

Students must be entering college in the fall 2016 academic semester and their scholarship awards will be made available to their chosen schools, for the purposes of tuition and/or books and housing.

Recipients will be notified by early April, so please check back around the April timeframe to learn of our selections for the 2016 academic year.

PHILANTHROPY TRAINING CAMP

On February 4, Boldin led his first sports philanthropy panel with NFL leaders Delanie Walker (Titans), James Andersen (Saints), Calais Campbell (Cardinals), Justin Tuck (Raiders), Trent Murphy (Redskins), and Torrey Smith (49ers).

Co-moderators, Gary Belsky, former ESPN editor and chief and NFL Players Gina Scott.

The panel discussed how being a profiled sports figure has its advantages of providing a platform to garner more community advocacy. Boldin founded the Philanthropy Training Camp to help players learn from their peers about giving back. PTC is expected to pursue its inaugural project initiative later this year.
