

The Cultural Council for Palm Beach County is facilitating a research project to understand the needs of the cultural sector and the specific role that the local arts agency can play to enrich the cultural vitality of Palm Beach County, economically advance artists and creative professionals, and support cultural organization growth and success. Additionally, this work will inform the Cultural Council's next strategic plan; advocacy messages; grant and donor funding requests; and future programs and services. They had over 600 responses to the anonymous online survey, which was the first phase of this project. Now, they are moving into the focus group phase. Your input and perspective may be valuable to this work. If you are a creative professional (working artist across all disciplines), please consider participating in the Belle Glade session (see date/time below).
