Jacquelyn Jamason, speaker

Jacquelyn is a Licensed Mental Health Clinician in Florida since 2003. She chose to be a lifelong helper and healer and has spent the majority of her career working in non-profit communities. She is a survivor of childhood trauma and partner violence.

"It is my responsibility now, to share my story, help others, and support new laws that educate against domestic violence and coercive control."

Tina Swithin, speaker

Acting as her own attorney for over a decade, Tina survived a "Category Five Divorce Hurricane" and a high-conflict custody battle. She chronicled her journey on her blog "One Mom's Battle", building a village of moms going through post-separation abuse from toxic, high conflict individuals.

Tina founded "Family Court Awareness Month." She is the author of Divorcing a Narcissist (series) and founder of the High Conflict Divorce Coach Certification Program.

Karen Hansen, moderator

Karen is an advocate, writer, and speaker on ending domestic violence. As a survivor, she has been involved in victim's rights legislation in Florida and has shared her story as a guest speaker at Florida Atlantic University, Florida State University, and University of Miami. Next month, she will be participating in a UN panel discussion on ending domestic violence against women.
