A Word from Your Mentor Coordinator

COVID Release Forms

Per our TSIC state office requirements, all TSIC mentors are required to sign and complete a COVID-19 Release Form and a Virtual Mentoring Release Form in order to continue mentoring your student. If you have not already done so, please click the button below to execute both forms. Without these completed forms, our program will not be able to continue to mentor our students. Please contact Emily Weeks, if you have any questions or would like to check the status of your submission.

Mentor Spotlight

Take Stock Mentors Pour Wisdom into their Mentees

Meet Sima and Ed Greenblat! They are a wonderful couple who have dedicated their time to mentoring our students. As mentors, the Greenblat's "pour wisdom" into their students during every mentor session. Sima and Ed love engaging with their mentees and look forward to their weekly sessions.

As many of our mentors, Ed and Sima have faced their fair share of challenges with virtual mentoring, but they've also experienced great success during these difficult times. Sima said her favorite aspect of mentoring is the joy she feels when meeting with her mentee. She describes her mentee as a warm, bubbly, and outgoing young lady. Which makes every meeting fun and exciting.

Ed also shares the same sentiments about his mentee and enjoys being around such lively young people. For Ed, mentoring his mentee makes him feel he is making a positive difference in a student's life. Ed shares, "We work on problem-solving, building good habits, and becoming the best version of ourselves."

The Greenblats are a true testament to the power of mentoring. Thank you for being TSIC mentors, Sima and Ed!

Thank You for Attending Our

Virtual Happy Hour!

On January 26th we wrapped up National Mentoring Month by celebrating with our mentors during a virtual happy hour. We are still thanking our mentors and sharing student stories in our Mentor Facebook group so be sure to keep an eye out for those. In addition, we will be mailing out prizes, service pins, and the 25-year celebration pin throughout the coming weeks. Again, we cannot thank you enough for the time and dedication you put into our students. You are the heart of our program and we are so thankful to have each of you as one of our TSIC mentors.

Vision Board Activity

Looking for an activity to do with your student virtually?
Create a vision board together!

Vision boards are a wonderful tool to help students dream, plan, and set goals. A vision board can be as simple as a list on a piece of paper or as extravagant as something you would find on Pinterest. No matter the effort, vision boards can be a useful tool to help our students set goals and determine what they are interested in. If your student is feeling crafty, encourage them to clip out some pictures from magazines, newspapers, or create their own drawings to make a collage of their hopes and dreams. They can also print photos or create a digital vision board using their computer. See the example from one of our students above! Be sure to share your students' vision boards and send them to Emily Weeks via email.
